WELCOME TO PORTLAND

Thanks for docking in our historic, seacoast downtown. There's something for everyone in Maine's largest city, home to 68,000 & visited annually by 5.4 million. Our working waterfront is a nod to our New England roots as a robust fishing community, but just beyond the coastline you'll discover fine art, award-winning chefs, hundreds of eclectic shops, historic architecture, & so much more. So dive right in & explore the original Portland — it's the way vacation should be.

Find Portland, Maine's hidden gems with our online business directory.

GET TO KNOW & LOVE PORTLAND

Our east coast city is easy to get to know and love. For starters, it's WALKABLE. Our cobblestone sidewalks aren't just for looks and charm; these historic streets are made for walking. With award-winning chefs, vibrant art exhibits, nautical tours, quirky storefronts, and whatever else your heart desires all just steps away, go ahead and put downtown Portland's walkways to good use. As you stroll through our downtown neighborhoods marveling at the historic architecture, popping into seatown shops, and fishing for the best lobster roll in town, take comfort knowing the salty shore is only ever a few blocks away.

If walking doesn't fit your lifestyle, no problem. Hop on a METRO bus, private trolley, or transit tour to help get you where you're going.

Have we mentioned our WORKING WATERFRONT?

Portland is located on a peninsula in Casco Bay. Its seaside setting makes whale watching, boat tours, and island excursions a breeze, and no doubt contributes to its summertime population growth. This small city of 68,000 — Maine's largest city and U.S. News and World Report's No. 1 "Best place to live on the East Coast" — is visited by 5.4 million each year.

Portland stands as one of few working waterfronts left countrywide, and there's a reason this seatown is known for its fresh-off-the-boat lobster. It annually scores as one of New England's top sea and fishing ports, reeling in some 108 million pounds of lobster in 2021 alone. So tuck that napkin into your shirt collar and get ready for some mouthwatering eats, because Portland is for FOODIES.

Lobster may be an iconic New England staple, but there's plenty of other fish in the sea, including bites that aren't found in the Atlantic at all. Bon Appétit's "Restaurant City of the Year" in 2018 for its dining diversity, Portland is home to nationally-recognized chefs serving quite the mix of casual and fine-dining cuisines. We promise there's more than you — or your Instagram feed — can stomach!

Portland is AGE-FRIENDLY.

Finding family-friendly fun is as easy as a walk in the park — literally. Downtown Portland has more than a handful of parks to visit, each with their own vibe, and has a variety of colorful murals, historic statues, and kid-friendly museums to help teach youngsters and adults alike about the city's history and culture.

The downtown is also home to several AARP-designated "Age-Friendly Businesses and Organizations," each focused on making their space accessible, friendly, and mindful of the challenges faced by older consumers. So bring the whole crew; Portland is for everyone.

DISCOVER DOWNTOWN PLACEMAKING

Portland Downtown is dedicated to enhancing the vibrancy of Portland, Maine through innovative placemaking efforts. But what exactly is placemaking? It's the art of transforming public spaces to promote community engagement, well-being, and a sense of belonging.

Portland Downtown • 207.772.6828 • portlandmaine.com

From spring through fall, you can experience our placemaking initiatives in several key areas:

- Monument Square: We've added additional seating and planters to help you relax in this famous plaza. Plus, enjoy our weekly market every Friday throughout the summer, where you can browse fresh produce, local crafts, and more. It's a lively gathering spot that brings the community together.
- Dana Street: Find vibrant, colorful seating options, including brightly painted picnic tables and Adirondack chairs. Step away from the bustling Commercial Street and enjoy the refreshing breeze from Casco Bay, just across the street.
- Milk Street: Take a seat at one of our brightly painted picnic tables or have fun with friends and family using our free lawn games and kids' play area. Located just off of busy lower Exchange Street, Milk Street is the perfect spot for families to unwind and play.

These inviting spaces are designed for you to take a load off, enjoy the surroundings, and connect with others.

To stay updated on all our activities and events, follow us on Instagram and Facebook @ PortlandDowntown. Come and see how we're making Portland a more enjoyable place for everyone!

WORLD-CLASS CRAFT BREWING

Maine is home to more than 150 breweries. Home to several of them, Portland beat out its west coast sister for most microbreweries per capita. There is no better place to sample and enjoy these craft beverages than in the brew pubs, restaurants, and tasting rooms of Maine's largest city. Atlantic Magazine called it "Craft Beer Heaven" and Portland's brew scene is not slowing down.

This was Real

I was there, I will never get over it.

The Silver Dollar Pocket is unlike anything I have ever seen at a gem mine in Maine. It was a cave-like opening in the cliff wall. Dark. Mysterious. In the back, large smokey quartz crystals. In the front, green tourmaline crystals left in place, untouched as found. The overlaying white clay had just been washed away. Crystals still wet, gleaming in the morning light. Jeff had carried a 1924 silver dollar since he won it in a poker game 33 years ago. He placed it for size reference. I took a video and still photographs. After that, the day just kept getting better.

Blue Sky Topaz

Blue Topaz is an amazing gem. It occurs in various shades of blue. At Cross, we choose the prettiest shades of pastel blue, they are the colors in the middle. Our Blue Sky Topaz is the third hardest gem after diamond which means it's highly resistant to scuffing and scratching. Blue Topaz has a high refractive index (jeweler talk) which means that when a gem is cut properly, it's the most sparkly bright brilliant pastel blue gem in nature!

Your new Blue Topaz is with you every day to remind you of the guiding principles of what is truly important.

Warm, Honey-gold Citrine
on our website.

For fifteen minutes, for a half hour — sun, orange-yellow-gold — breaks the horizon in the East. Light sweeps across hundreds of miles of ocean to strike our shores. The amber light begins to return color to the land as the sun rises. The sun melts the shadows, warms the air, chases fog away, and makes dew drops on spider webs sparkle, then vanish. Of course there is darkness six, eight, ten hours while we sleep, dreaming, tossing, turning, reaching for our lover, trusting we are safe, and that a new day will come again. Orange, yellow citrine is pure magic and the promise of a new day.

Each new day is another shot at life. Let these necklaces, earrings, rings and bracelets become your talisman for another chance, another opportunity to get it all right.

New opportunities arrive.
